

The Town that Lives within a National Park

— Tokyo Okutama Sustainable Declaration —

Protection begins with reflection.

At the far western edge of Tokyo lies Okutama — a town embraced by the Chichibu-Tama-Kai National Park.

Here, people and nature breathe as one,
sharing a quiet, harmonious everyday life.

The clarity of the river,
the calm of the forest,
and the brilliance of all living things —
these are safeguarded by the choices and actions of each of us.

Sustainability is not merely about continuation;
it is the will to preserve beauty.

For those who visit, and for those who live here,
may every moment be spent with comfort and compassion.

Pause. Reflect. Protect.

Every action within the National Park matters.

For the beautiful greens and blues — into the future.
